Gordon Stewart Northcott was born in 1894 in Canada. He was the son of a Methodist minister and a devout Christian woman. However, Northcott's 童年 was far from idyllic. He was经常受虐待by his parents, and he was often left to fend for himself on the streets. As a result, Northcott developed a deep-seated hatred for authority and a fascination with violence.

When Northcott was 16 years old, he moved to California with his family. Here, he met Sanford Clark, a drifter who would become his partner in crime. Together, Northcott and Clark kidnapped, tortured, and murdered at least 20 young boys. Their victims were lured to Northcott's chicken ranch in Riverside, California, where they were subjected to unspeakable horrors.

Northcott and Clark's crimes were finally discovered in 1928, when one of their victims escaped and reported what had happened to the police. The police raided Northcott's ranch and found the remains of several boys. Northcott and Clark were arrested and charged with murder. They were both convicted and sentenced to death.

Northcott was hanged in 1930. Clark was gassed to death in 1938.

The crimes of Gordon Stewart Northcott are a chilling reminder of the darkness that can lurk in the human heart. His story is a cautionary tale about the dangers of child abuse and the importance of protecting our children from harm.
