Meet Rayne Delilah Walker

Rayne Delilah is an ordinary teenage girl living in the quiet town of Dime Box, Texas. But beneath her unassuming exterior lies a heart filled with an extraordinary love for all things cinematic. From the golden age of Hollywood to the gritty realism of independent films, Rayne's encyclopedic knowledge of movies serves as her sanctuary.

When Rayne's beloved grandmother, Mary Lee, is diagnosed with cancer, her world is turned upside down. Mary Lee, a former actress and fervent cinephile, has always been Rayne's closest confidante and guide. Now, as Mary Lee's health declines, Rayne finds herself grappling with grief and a sense of impending loss.

The Magic of Midnight Matinees

In a desperate attempt to escape her emotional turmoil, Rayne seeks refuge at the local movie theater, the Dime Box Palace. There, she encounters a group of kindred spirits—Jayden, a fellow film enthusiast, and Rex, a troubled runaway. Together, they embark on a series of unforgettable midnight matinees, where the flickering images on the screen become a lifeline connecting them to the world and to themselves.

Through these late-night screenings, Rayne discovers the power of cinema to heal, inspire, and ignite hope. Classic films such as "Casablanca," "Singin' in the Rain," and "Rebel Without a Cause" provide her with a language to express her emotions and a means to confront her fears.

A Love Story for the Ages

As Rayne navigates the challenges of grief and adolescence, she finds solace in the unexpected love of Brody Broussard. A charming and enigmatic outsider, Brody shares Rayne's passion for cinema and offers her an escape from the pain that threatens to consume her.

Their love story unfolds amidst the dim lights and flickering screens of the Dime Box Palace, proving that even in the darkest of times, love has the power to illuminate the path.
